 Apple Specialist

The best-selling portable in the U.S. that captures the spirit of the iMac™ is the iBook™. Featuring 300 MHz processors, 12.1" active matrix displays, 64 MB of RAM and 6 GB hard drives they come in Tangerine and Blueberry. The iBook Special Edition gets an even faster 366 MHz processor and elegant graphite case. Internet friendly, they include a complete software bundle, built-in 56K modem and 10/100BASE-T Ethernet. With a six-hour battery life you can write that screenplay at your favorite coffee shop. An innovative "yo-yo" wind-up power adapter is almost worth the cost itself.

Connect anywhere—AirPort™ Gives You Room to Roam.

Simply install an Apple AirPort™ Card for your iBook™, attach the AirPort™ Base Station into a phone jack or Ethernet network, and you can wander up to 150 feet from your AirPort™ Base Station—without a single cord to hamper you. Who says you have to surf from your desk? Several people can even access the Internet through a single AirPort™ Base Station.

APPLE® POWER MAC™ G4

Dual Processors—and a Cube!

Double your computing power—or cube it! Apple shakes up the high-end computer market with the introduction of the fastest personal computers ever created: a revamped “regular” G4, new dual-processor G4s — and the epic new G4 Cube! An engineering marvel! New G4s include optical Pro Mouse, Apple Pro Keyboard, and the Apple Desktop Connector (ADC) for one-cable connections to new Apple monitors. These new G4s are wild—and very, very, very fast!

Power Cubed

The G4 Cube is only eight inches per side—yet it houses a 450 MHz CPU. What doesn't it have? NOISE! Innovative engineering disposes of the fan so it works in silence, leaving you free to think, or enjoy the 20-watt Harmon Kardon digital speakers. With 64 MB of RAM, 20 GB ATA hard drive and DVD-ROM, it has more than enough power for desktop publishing, playing games or watching DVD movies all while taking up less space than your home stereo system.

Dual Processing Power

Put a supercomputer on your desktop! Choose from a 400 MHz G4 or new dual-processor 450 MHz or 500 MHz G4s, which are far, far faster than any Pentium III. New dual-processor architecture gives you twice the performance of previous models at the same prices. Processor intensive applications like Adobe Photoshop and Final Cut Pro will love the dual G4s, allowing you to finish your work faster. All models have a 100 MHz system bus, 10/100/1000BASE-T Ethernet and an ATI RAGE Pro 128 graphics card with 16 MB of SDRAM.
